To General William G. Conley

In appreciation of the interest he has taken in the University, and of his services to the state, as well as for the example set by his life, the Class of 1924 gratefully dedicates this twenty-sixth edition of the Monticola to former Attorney-General William Gustavus Conley.

General William Gustavus Conley

Former Attorney General William G. Conley is the son of Major William Conley and Mary Freeburn Conley and was born January 8, 1866, on a farm near Kingwood, Preston County, West Virginia. He attended the district schools, the summer normal schools, and later West Virginia University, from which he graduated in June, 1893, with the degree of LL. B. After teaching school for five terms, he was elected Superintendent of Schools of Preston County for the term beginning July 1, 1891. Upon graduation from the University he began the practice of law at Parsons, Tucker County, West Virginia, where he resided for nearly ten years. While living in Parsons General Conley was elected a member of the Town Council and later to the office of Mayor. In the fall of 1896 he was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Tucker County and was re-elected in 1900. In March, 1903, he returned to his native County of Preston and was soon elected Councilman and later Mayor of Kingwood. He was appointed Attorney General of West Virginia in May 1908, and the following July was nominated by the State Republican Convention for both the short and long terms and at the general election that fall was elected to both terms by the largest plurality of any candidate on the state ticket. His term as Attorney General which was decidedly successful and satisfactory to the state, expired March 4, 1913. At that time he located at Charleston and resumed the general practice of law. Soon afterward he formed a law partnership with Clyde B. Johnson, now State Senator from the Eighth Senatorial District. This firm has a large practice and is considered one of the strongest law firms in the state.

General Conley is a Republican and served for number of years as Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of Tucker County. He has also served as Secretary and later as Chairman of the Congressional Committee of the Second West Virginia District. In 1895 he was a delegate to the National League of Republican Clubs that convened at Cleveland, Ohio. In 1896 he was Assistant Secretary of the National Republican Convention at St. Louis that nominated McKinley for President. He was not a candidate for re-election as Attorney-General, but was nominated for Congress by the Republicans in the Second Congressional District without opposition in the primary of June, 1912, but was defeated in the general election by fourteen votes, notwithstanding the fact that the Republican party was disorganized and his Democratic opponent was popular and wealthy and had been elected the preceding election by a plurality of 4,492.

On July 14, 1892, he married Miss Bertie Ison Martin, of Preston County, to which marriage five children have been born, three of whom are still living. Donald M. and James S. Conley, the two younger, are now students at the West Virginia University. General Conley has always been a strong friend and loyal supporter of the University. He takes a deep interest in the welfare of the students and the advancement of the institution.

General Conley is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Knights of Pythias, the Odd Fellows, the Modern Woodmen of America, the Freemasons, including the Chapter, Commandery, Consistory and Shriners, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the Southern Sociological Congress, the National Geographic Society, the Edgewood Country Club, Old Colony Club and Rotary Club.

In Memoriam

DR. CHAUNCEY WILLIAM WAGGONER, B. S., A. M., Ph.D.

Dr. Chauncey William Waggoner

Chauncey William Waggoner was born at Rock Bridge, Ohio, February 23, 1881. He was graduated from Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, with the degree of B. S., in 1904, and from Cornell University with the degree of A. M., in 1905. For five years he was student and instructor in Cornell University. He specialized in physics and won his doctorate in 1909. In the same year he was chosen Professor of Physics and Head of the Department of Physics in West Virginia University and took up his work at once.

The thirteen years that followed were years of unusual growth and expansion in the University, especially in the departments of science, and Professor Waggoner, in sympathy with this department, reorganized the department of physics adequately to meet the growing demands upon it.

As a member in active attendance on the meetings of numerous national scientific bodies, he kept himself in close touch with the advance made in physics and engineering. He brought to this University and to this State valuable information gleaned from such associations, and shared it with others.

Before the establishment of a department of weights and measures in his State he labored gratuitously and tirelessly to secure the enactment of adequate and just legislation to regulate the use of weights and measures in the State, and after the establishment of a department of weights and measures in 1915, he worked zealously, as Assistant Commissioner of Weights and Measures, to help make this department useful and effective.

During the participation of the United States in the great war, Dr. Waggoner was chairman of the research committee of the state council of defense. He was also active in researches with industrial corporations engaged in the manufacture of munitions.

Dr. Waggoner was broad in his views and many-sided in his interests. Native ability and scientific training guided him to well-based judgments. While tolerant of others' views, he was constructive and convincing in the presentation of his own views. Alert to every phase of civic and spiritual betterment, he showed himself in daily practice a sympathetic colleague, a kindly neighbor, and a dutiful citizen. For young people he had especial sympathy, and he was active in encouraging their interest in religious and community life as in the pursuit of scientific knowledge. He had unusual zeal and energy. Hence, he labored without stint to advance the interests of youth, church, community and State. He had a strong moral courage. He therefore supported frankly and firmly, though with becoming courtesy toward adversaries, every cause which he deemed worthy of his espousal. His power of initiative and analysis made him a weighty advocate or a strong opponent. In him we found exemplified the finer qualities of a scholar, teacher, colleague, neighbor and citizen.

Sophomore Class History

OFFICERS

President	Cassel I. Mowery
Vice-President	Eugene Berry
Secretary	Helen Lyon
Treasurer	Buel Crow

The class of 1925 quietly enrolled on the records of West Virginia University one September day in 1921, and quietly set out to do its duty as meek and downtrodden Freshmen. We intended to be as Freshmen should, but when we saw that we were a great part of the school, the most important organization, we started out to take the rightful place that should be ours—and our history tells how well we accomplished our purpose.

We needed an organization in order to make our progress more swift and certain, and we met, by request of powers above us, to elect officers for our freshman year. We confidently expected that our officers would enjoy the benefit of the Sophomore concentration wrath, but that realization did not prevent the election of capable and willing leaders. Grant Hall was elected President; Cassel Mowery, Vice President; Eva Wilson, Secretary; Carson Howard, Treasurer; Howard Klostermeyer, Historian and Alfred C. Ihlanfeld, Cheer Leader.

With the advantage of a complicated and well perfected system of offensive warfare, we easily overcame the weak resistance of the Sophomores in the annual cane rush, and thus established, to our satisfaction at least, that we were just about the best class that ever cast its lot with West Virginia. Throughout the year our efforts were constantly put forth to excel in every campus activity, and in athletics, dramatics, scholarship, and the less known but more widely practiced activities, we were recognized, to put it modestly, as the best.

When we returned to the University in the fall of 1922 as Sophomores, we realized that we were taking upon ourselves a great and serious responsibility for it was our duty to instruct the new Freshmen in the gentle art of looking meek. We took as our motto, "spare the rod and spoil the child" in our course of instructions. The outcome was a great success, in fact it might be called a "howling" success.

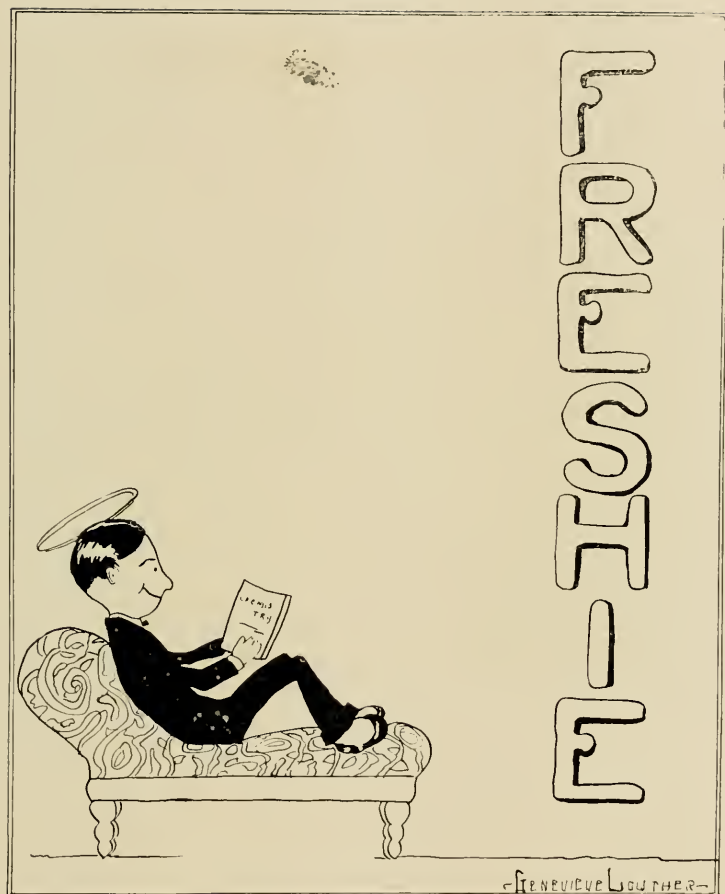

Of course we lost to the Freshmen in the flag rush but that was because of numbers and not because we lacked any of the old time determination.

As Sophomores our class has persisted in its never-ceasing efforts to be first in everything. We do not boast—but look around the campus, and you will find that "25" is the magic numeral which is attached to the majority of the men, girls, and activities, that is superlative. Without further recital of the merits and defects of our class, we leave our future and our reputation in the hands of those whom we trust above all others to do us justice, namely ourselves.

Historian	Katherine Smith

The eighteenth day of September in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-two was a momentous day in the lives of the eight hundred students who on that day applied for admittance in West Virginia University. Will we ever forget that helpless and forlorn feeling as we stood in that seemingly endless line to the registrar's office! Those awe-inspiring upper-classmen knew us only as the largest class that had ever been enrolled; they knew nothing of our possibilities. However after that dreaded ordeal of registration was over, we entered the year with confidence and good spirits, determined to make our place on the campus. The first week we were welcomed into the university by an address by President Trotter at a meeting called in Commencement Hall. The President informed us of the opportunities which we had for learning and of the advantages which the University offered to us. We did not have time at that meeting for organizing, so another meeting was called for the following week by the President of the Student Council, Robert Kelly. At this meeting our officers were elected and we were told of the rules regarding Freshman conduct on the campus.

Our first and most interesting activity on the campus was the annual freshman-sophomore rush. This contest took place on the athletic field at the close of the W. V. U. and Rutgers football game, and was refereed by the Fi Batars. It is needless to say that the freshmen were victorious, although our opponents put up a brave fight with the aid of a large fire hose. Of course freshman boys were overjoyed when it was learned that the famous freshmen caps would be worn until the opening of the baseball season, April 6, instead of until the end of the first semester as formerly.

The class of '26 is rapidly taking an important place in athletics and student activities of all kinds. This year starts our class on its course with a high standard to maintain and we are going to be real boosters for the University while we are in school and after we have left to take our places in the world.

Society Notes

TORCH AND SERPENT

The first formal dance in the Armory was given in honor of the football squad, December 15, 1922. Smith's Orchestra of Kentucky furnished the music.

SIGMA CHI

Unusually elaborate details marked the fall party given Saturday evening, November 18, by members of the Sigma Chi Fraternity at their home on North High Street.

A color scheme of black and white was carried out effectively. The walls of the large fraternity room were covered entirely by strips of black and white. The ceiling was overhung with white, generously sprinkled with large and small black dots.

The diners were seated in this room at twenty tables, each containing appointments for four guests, and being lighted by candles.

At nine o'clock the tables were cleared away and the dance program started. A program of twelve dances was played and at eleven thirty the strains of "Home Sweet Home" brought the delightful party to a close. The music was furnished by Irvin's Pep Orchestra of Pittsburg, Pa.

DELTA GAMMA

Pledge Party

The Pi Alphas of Delta Gamma entertained for the active chapter on November 5, 1923. The party was in the form of a progressive dinner dance. Clever passports directed the guests to the homes of the pledges and contained a program a 12 dinner dance which was played by the Kappa Sigma orchestra at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Edmondson.

CHI OMEGA

Miss Jane McDermott entertained the active members and pledges of Chi Omega at her "gym" November 24th. A Japanese holiday scene was extensively carried out by lanterns, balloons, and an attractively decorated pool. Light refreshments were served during the evening. Music was furnished by Cook's Orchestra.

PHI KAPPA PSI

Fall Party, November 17, 1922

One of the most elaborate entertainments of the semester was the dancing party given by the members of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Psi in their home on Spruce Street last night. Formal in its appointments the scheme of the decorations was in harmony with the fraternity colors, pink and lavender. Laurel and pine were used effectively in combination with chrysanthemums to make the rooms of the home most attractive.

A program of fourteen dances was played by Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra. During the dancing a buffet luncheon was served.

KAPPA SIGMA

On Saturday evening, December 9, the active chapter of Kappa Sigma entertained at their home with an informal party. Three rooms on the first floor were decorated separately in the colors of the fraternity—scarlet, green and white. The rooms upstairs were appropriately decorated in honor of the football team while laurel and pine festooned the corners throughout the house. Iced punch was served during the entire evening. Delicate refreshments consisting of chicken, fruit sandwiches, almonds, mints carrying out the fraternity color scheme, cakes and coffee. A delightful program was presented by Mill's Maryland Orchestra of Cumberland, Md.

THETA CHI

On Friday evening, December 9th, the active members of Alpha Kappa chapter of Theta Chi, entertained with a dance at the chapter house. The rooms were very attractively decorated with ferns and palms. Red and white carnations were used in all the rooms. A delightful programme of twelve dances and two extras was furnished by Henry's Orchestra. Attractive card cases bearing the fraternity seal with the programmes inside were given as favors. Punch was served throughout the evening. About thirty-five couples were present. During an intermission between the seventh and eighth dances elegant refreshments in two courses were served.

SIGMA NU

Elaborate decorations and an unusual form of entertainment featured the ball held at the Armory by the local chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity, honoring the delegates to the Fifth District Convention, Friday evening, December the eighth.

The society colors—white, black and gold—were pleasingly displayed in the Armory, while a black border, and a draping of gold, extending at an angle to the wall, enhanced the beautiful picture.

At the south end of the hall, tables were arranged for a la carte service, served by Comuntzis Brothers, local caterers.

Tables for cards were arranged in a nicely appointed compartment on the north end of the floor.

Music was furnished by the Dixie Orchestra of Pittsburgh, Pa., the members of which were seated on a platform in the center of the hall. Floral decorations contributed to the appearance of the group. Gladys Yates, petite danseuse, also from Pittsburgh, pleased at intervals with various interpretations.

The hours were from eight-thirty until one o'clock.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The first dance of the year was held the night of December 9th. Eddie Barrett's "Old Gold and Blue Orchestra" furnished a delightful program of twelve dances that was greatly enjoyed by those present. During the course of the evening a buffet supper was served. The house was beautifully decorated with serpentine and different colored balloons.

KAPPA ALPHA

Dinner Dance

On Saturday night, December 9th the active members of Kappa Alpha were hosts at a delightful dinner served at the Old Home Tea Room. At 8:30 p. m., the guests were taken to the chapter house which was artistically decorated with greenery and the fraternity colors. Music was played by the Old Gold and Blue Orchestra for twelve dances.

MILITARY BALL

The annual Military Ball was held February 5th in the Armory and proved to be successful as always. Brigode's Orchestra of Charleston played sixteen dances. The Armory was decorated with West Virginia colors and electrical effects were used in great fashion. Luncheon was served by the Boston Confectionery.

TAU DELTA THETA

The Fall Dance December 8, 1922

Tau Delta Theta entertained with an informal party at the chapter house. Eighteen guests were present. The house was carefully decorated with the fraternity and school colors. The music was offered by the Pennsylvania seven.

KAPPA SIGMA

Smoker

A smoker was held by Gamma Phi chapter of Kappa Sigma on December tenth in memory of Founders Day. A decidedly pleasing musical program was presented by the chapter orchestra. Autographed pictures from founders Boyd and McCormick and from Brother William G. McAdoo were presented to the chapter at this time by Brother D. A. Christopher, who as an alumnus advisor, addressed the chapter. Short talks were given by other members of the Alumni in town for the occasion. A few humorous sketches were forced from Brother West Hardy, who entertained while appropriate refreshments were being enjoyed.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

On December the fifteenth the Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa entertained its friends when the first semester party was held at the chapter house. The fraternity colors of silver and magenta were carried out in the decorations together with old gold and blue.

Henry's Orchestra furnished the music for a program of twelve dances and during the intermission a delightful luncheon was served, after which dancing continued until midnight.

PI BETA PHI

The active chapter and pledges of Pi Beta Phi entertained with a formal dance in the Chapter House, Friday eveing, January 12th. The rooms of the lower floor were decorated with palms, ferns, and roses, and the fraternity colors of wine and silver blue. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. Erwin's Pep Orchestra of Altoona, Pennsylvania, furnished the music for a program of twelve dances. Forty-five couples were present.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The mid-winter dance of Iota Chapter Alpha Xi Delta took place at the chapter house January thirteenth. The decorations gave the effect of a social bank. The teller's window of the bank greeted the guests as they entered giving them check-book programs. Millions of gold and silver dollars hung from the ceilings and large gold dollar marks decorated the walls.

During the intermission appropriate refreshments were served. Henry's "West Virginians" furnished the music for ten dances and two extras.

ALPHA THETA ZETA

On Saturday evening January thirteenth, the members of Alpha Theta Zeta entertained with an informal dance. The rooms were attractively decorated with laurel and a background of pink crepe paper. There was a program of twelve dances and two extras. During an intermission refreshments were served.

ALPHA THETA ZETA

DELTA GAMMA

Alpha Xi of Delta Gamma held their winter formal dance on January 13, 1923. The porch was enclosed and the entire house decoration was suggestive of a carnival. One upstairs room was reserved for cards. "D. G." special was the feature of a program of 12 dances played by Eddie Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra.

CHI OMEGA AND KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

One of the most brilliant formal dances of the winter season was the semester party held by the Chi Omega and Kappa Kappa Gamma Sororities January twenty-third. The armory was elaborately decorated with colored balloons, serpentine and artistic Japanese lanterns. Light refreshments were served during the evening. Music was furnished by Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra.

PHI KAPPA PSI

Alumni Party

One of the most brilliant affairs of the mid-winter season was the dancing party given last night in the Masonic Temple by the members of the local Alumni Association of Phi Kappa Psi, honoring the members of the active chapter and their friends. The appointments were elaborately planned and were formal in nature. The Black and White Ten of York, Pa., played the program which was most enjoyable.

Simulating a low ceiling by the use of festooning in red and green, the fraternity colors, the festooning was draped across the center and criss-crossed in the two colors at the sides. Hanging lamps with unique shades furnished the light.

At the close of the program of fourteen dances the guests were invited to the chapter house on Spruce Street where a delightful buffet luncheon was served.

BETA THETA PI

On February 3, 4, and 5 the chapter was host to the delegates of the chapters in the seventh district of the fraternity, at which time representatives from Pennsylvania State College, Bethany College, Washington and Jefferson and Carnegie Institute of Technology were here. On the evening of the 3rd, the active chapter entertained with a formal dinner at the Ortolan in honor of the visiting delegates and friends. During the course of the dinner Bernard Madiera of the Alumni and Paul Mason of Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra entertained with a dialogue in which Mr. Mason purported to be President Harding speaking to the Betas, by radio. Several interesting jokes were "pulled" on the hosts and their guests. After the dinner the party was invited to the Masonic Temple where the local Alumni gave a dance in their honor. The Temple was beautifully decorated with various colors of the chapter and of the University. An improvised ceiling of black crepe from which hung types of lanterns gave a beautiful effect. Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra played for the dance.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

One of the most successful formal affairs of the year was the Phi Kappa Sigma Dance given at their house February 2, 1923. The house was artistically decorated to represent an Italian garden scene. A delightful buffet luncheon was served and Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra furnished the music for the dances.

SIGMA CHI

"Prep" Party

The pledges of Sigma Chi entertained the active men with a party at the Chapter House on February 3rd.

The decorations were of blue and gold. The streamers literally covered the large fraternity room and formed a very pleasing effect. The large back porch was covered with laurel interlaced with the blue and old gold streamers. The programs were in the shape of a pledge button.

At ten o'clock the guests were served with a delightful lunch. During the program, which consisted of twelve dances, fruit punch was served.

A very pleasing program was furnished by Ace Brigode and his 10 Virginians of Charleston, W. Va.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

On April 21st the members of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity held their spring dance at the house on McLane Avenue. Novel electrical arrangements featured the decorations. During intermission refreshments were served. Music was furnished by Barrett's Orchestra.

JUNIOR PROM

An elaborate Junior Prom was given by the Junior Class in honor of the Class of '24 Friday, May 13th. The program of sixteen dances was played by an unusually "peppy" orchestra from Detroit, Mich.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The crowning event of the Delta Tau's social season was the formal dinner dance given by Mr. and Mrs. S. Hutchinson at the Fairmont Country Club, Fairmont, W. Va. After a six course dinner the dancers enjoyed a program of sixteen dances played by the "Mason-Dixon Orchestra," America's premier dance orchestra. The Club was charmingly decorated with garlands of flowers and the corners were banked with ferns and palms. The girls were given corsages of flowers and attractive plume fans mounted with the fraternity crest. During the short intermission a buffet supper was served.

KAPPA ALPHA

Spring Dance

With spring flowers as decorations and the splendid program rendered by Fuzzy Knight's Southern Serenaders the second semester formal dance of Kappa Alpha was a success.

A feature of the dance was the special numbers played by Fuzzy Knight's Orchestra. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served.

THETA CHI

The Theta Chi House was the scene of a beautiful dance on Saturday evening, April 21, when the active members of Alpha Kappa Chapter entertained their friends. The entire house was beautifully decorated. Dancing was done in the four rooms downstairs while refreshments were served throughout the evening in the several rooms upstairs. Ferns, palms and greens of all kinds were used as decorations. About forty couples attended. Peppy music for twelve dances was furnished by the Theta Chi orchestra from Pitt. Leather purses with the fraternity seal were given as favors.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The annual rose dance took place May twenty-sixth at the chapter house. The pink rose of the fraternity together with a background of green made the house appear as a rose bower. The rose programs contained ten dances and two extras and the music was furnished by Barrett's orchestra.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Picnic

The members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority held their spring picnic at Oak Park, May 19. Dancing, boating and other diversions featured the afternoon. Barrett's Orchestra furnished the music.

GENERAL DANCES

This year marked a new epoch in the general dances at the University. The committee, which is composed of Joe Brown, chairman, and Edd Hutchinson and Hardin Harmer worked efficiently and well. Through their efforts the general dances have taken a more prominent part in the social calendar than ever before.

During the year several elaborate dances have been held. To the people who do not have the benefit of social life in a fraternity or sorority these dances have meant a great deal and they have shown that they appreciated them.

The most successful dance given by this committee was on April 27. Formal in its appointments the scheme of the decorations fitted well with the occasion. Sixteen dances were played by a "peppy" orchestra from New York. Everybody agreed that it was the best dance of the season.

It is hoped by all that this kind of dance will continue because of the many benefits to all those who are restricted otherwise in their social activities. The student body owes this committee a vote of thanks for the work that they have done for us, in elevating these dances to the place that they now hold.

FI BATER CAPPAR

Founded in Athens, 327 B. C. by Socrates

FLOWER—Roses (four)

COLORS—Brown or Green (according to season)

Foreword: The exact data and circumstances under which the fraternity was founded have until the last few months, been veiled in mystery and even now the musty archives fail to give a true account of that memorable occasion. However, with the expenditure of a vast amount of capital, the organization has at last uncovered what may prove to be a connecting link in the history of the organization.

The above mentioned research was conducted in Egypt, near the old Moses chapter house, and resulted in the uncovering of the tomb of Brother L. H. C. P. Tut-Ank-Amen. Thus far this discovery has given the following proofs:

1. That Tut was pickled when he died; therefore he was a member of the fraternity.
2. That a likeness of the sacred bull was carved on his coffin; therefore it has always been the emblem of Fi Bater Cappar.
3. That Cleopatra was the first Fi Bater girl.

With additional exploitation, Fi Batar Cappar soon hopes to have a true knowledge of their fraternity.

This has been one of the most successful years in the annals of the organization. At the beginning of the Fall term a number of new men were pledged, some of whom have developed into really good material. The scholastic standing has been very satisfactory. Very little trouble has been experienced with the brothers that have a slight inclination toward alcoholic beverages. The Chapter house has been well taken care of, and plans for remodeling are under way. The fraternity has sponsored a number of delightful social events, dances, street car expeditions, spelling bees and the like, and needless to say, none of the girls were bored. Fi Bater Cappar is happy to announce that, with graduation, it will lose a lot of dead material and be better able to function as an organization next semester.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

West Virginia University Branch

The West Virginia University Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is one of the sixty-two Student branches. This branch was organized January 7, 1915 under the direction of Professor V. Karapetoff of Cornell University and Professor W. E. Dickinson, then head of the department of Electrical Engineering of West Virginia University.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers was founded in 1884, with the following objects in view: The advancement of the theory and practice of electrical engineering; the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members and the development of the individual engineer. To this end it publishes the Journal of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, in which are papers dealing with the latest technical data and information along electrical engineering lines.

FOOT BALL

Any one who attended West Virginia University or who was interested in its athletics in 1922 needs no reminder of the football record for that season. With one lone exception the season was an unbroken series of victories, and for the most part victories over elevens whose strength was known throughout the country. It resulted in the elevation of West Virginia football from sectional to national prominence, and elicited favorable comparisons of the team with those representing Princeton, Army, and Cornell, the only other eastern elevens that finished the season without defeat.

Well-earned victories over Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, Gonzaga, Virginia and Rutgers, as well as smashing defeats of Marietta, Cincinnati, Indiana, and Ohio University—that indicates something of the season's success. Further indication is given by the total of 257 points scored by the Mountaineers in eleven games, as compared to the thirty-five points made by opposing teams.

The record made in the ten regularly scheduled games was one that would excite envy in almost any university. It resulted in the selection of West Virginia as one of the three eastern teams to meet the three strongest elevens on the Pacific coast during the Christmas holidays. The Mountaineers were considerably worn by the trans-continental trip, and consequently did not show their real strength in the game with Gonzaga. Nevertheless they brought home the victory, and left a favorable and lasting impression of West Virginia among the people of the West.

Apparently not overly strong at the beginning of the season, the team was rapidly whipped into an unbeatable machine that rose to the needs of each occasion and closed the schedule with an almost uninterrupted crescendo. The scrimmages at training camps or the 20 to 3 victory over Wesleyan did not presage the 9 to 6 victory over Pitt., the 14 to 0 victory over W. and J., or the battle with Gonzaga, in which the Mountaineers demonstrated their superiority.

The development was the work of Dr. C. W. "Fats" Spears, head coach, assisted by I. E. Rodgers, R. H. C. Kay, and Nate Cartmell, trainer. The team would have brought credit to any veteran coach, but for the work of two years it was marvelous. When Dr. Spears came here from Dartmouth in 1921, he brought a system of football comparatively new to West Virginia and one on which many fans looked with skepticism. The 1922 team not only fully vindicated the system but gave Dr. Spears a place among the half dozen best coaches in the country.

The team has been declared generally an unbeatable machine without stars. It was rather a constellation of stars in which all the stellar individuals were co-ordinated so as to execute their functions with mechanical precision and highly developed human intelligence.

Some of the men, of course, stand out more conspicuously than the others. Joe Setron, guard, was chosen for the second All-American team and Nick Nardacci, halfback, and Captain Russ Meredith, tackle, were awarded honorable mention. But the others were not far behind. Homer Martin, the steady fullback, Graham at end, Mahan at tackle, Pierre Hill, Simon, Eckberg, Quarles, Davis, Phil Hill, Tallman, Lough, Barnum—they were all indispensable parts of the powerful machine. Mahrt gave promise of developing into a backfield star of the first magnitude, but in the early part of the season he was declared ineligible on account of the migratory ruling. It was his field goal from the 38-yard line that changed the Pitt. game from the 6-6 tie to a 9-6 victory.

This victory first caused West Virginia fans to realize the strength of their aggregation, and perhaps it was partially responsible for the tie game with W. and L. on the following Saturday. But regardless of its evil effects, the victory constitutes an important part of the most successful record ever set by a W. V. U. football team. The 1903 eleven will be remembered for the victory over Pitt., and other W. V. U. teams for single great victories, achieved principally through the work of such individual stars as Rodgers, Hite, and Bailey. The 1922 team will live in our memories as the epoch-making power that gave the Mountaineers their place among the very few strongest teams in America.

Following is a summary of the games:

WESLEYAN

Pre-season reports from the coaches indicated that the opening game with Wesleyan would not be any snap for the Mountaineers. Consequently a crowd of some 8,000 fans had gathered at South Side Park, Fairmont, when the game was called on Saturday, September 30. The student body of each school had turned out en masse.

In the first few minutes of play, Wesleyan completed two forward passes for a net gain of forty-five yards. After that the Mountaineers checked the advance, and their goal was not threatened during the entire game. The most sensational feat of the contest was Radman's field goal from the 51-yard line. That was the opponent's only score.

West Virginia's first touchdown was made by Homer Martin on a recovered fumble. Nardacci made the second after a spectacular open-field run of sixty-eight yards. Simon plowed through the opposing line for the final touchdown. The game ended 20 to 3.

MARIETTA

The smashing triumph of 55 to 0 over Marietta and the unexpected power evinced by West Virginia in the game sent our hopes soaring for a victory over Pitt. In this game something of the real ability of our team became apparent. Mahrt at fullback scored four touchdowns and altogether made five runs of more than thirty yards each. Eckberg and Simon both played a much better game than they did against Wesleyan.

While the defense did not appear to be entirely all that might have been expected, "Red" Mahan, who was playing his first game of the season shared with Mahrt in the honors of the game. He was already giving promise of the ability which he showed in the later contests.

PITTSBURGH

A description of the struggle with Pitt. is impossible. Homer Martin grabbed a partially blocked punt and raced twenty-five yards for a touch-down and Armin Mahrt kicked a field goal from the 38-yard line in the closing minutes of play. At the beginning of the third quarter Colonna edged his way through the Mountaineer line for Pitt's. six points.

That tells the story of the scoring, but it is only a meagre account of the violent struggles of the other men which made the score possible, and the jubilation of the 5,000 Mountaineers fans who witnessed the game. The victory was one to which every member of our team gave a material contribution.

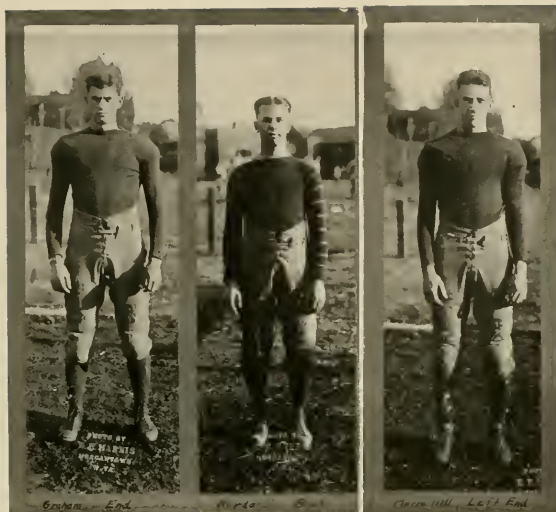

Thrilling as it was, the game in itself was only a part of the moving spectacle that attended the victory. For nineteen successive years the Mountaineers had gone down in defeat before the Panthers. When at last the tide turned, old grads locked arms with nearly 2,000 students in celebration of the event.

When the special train returned to Morgantown late Saturday night, it was met by the students who had not accompanied the team on the trip. The rest of the night and the following Monday were given over to jubilant demonstrations, marked by a mass meeting on the athletic field, a parade downtown, and a dance in the Armory in the afternoon.

WASHINGTON AND LEE

The enthusiasm aroused by the Pitt. victory was given a sudden check by the 12-12 tie with W. and L. in Charleston on the following Saturday. Various excuses have been given for the reversal, because fans who had followed the two teams were confident of the superiority of the Mountaineers. Regardless of the causes, it remains that the game was not won, and while every West Virginia supporter feels that it should have been, excuses are useless.

Early in the first quarter Fred Graham registered the first score for West Virginia by recovering a fumble and dashing across the line. The ball was pushed over the second time by Homer Martin, after a steady march of eighty-one yards.

At the beginning of the second half the score stood 12 to 0 for West Virginia. Then W. and L. opened an aerial attack that resulted in a touchdown in the third quarter and another in the fourth.

RUTGERS

The thorough overhauling that the squad received after the W. and L. game showed results in the battle with Rutgers at Morgantown on the following Saturday. The coaches had been frank in their acknowledgement of Rutgers' strength, but from the beginning of the contest there was no doubt of West Virginia's superiority. Our lines tore through the opposing defense and our backs made numerous long gains that resulted in four touchdowns. The final score was 28 to 0.

CINCINNATI

There were so many substitutes in the Cincinnati game, in order to save the first-string men, that the Mountaineers did not show up to their best advantage. While our goal was not threatened, Cincinnati completed five first downs to none for West Virginia in the first quarter. In the later periods, however, our men braced up and pushed over five touchdowns for a total score of 34 points. The opponents did not score.

QUINLAN

Although West Virginia had expected to encounter stiff resistance in Indiana, the Mountaineer eleven ran up the smashing score of 33 points and did not permit the opponents to cross their goal once. The game was made an occasion for home-coming day, and thousands of Indiana Alumni gathered at Bloomington to witness the contest.

West Virginia was expected to be weakened by the debarment of Barnum and Mahrt through the freshman and migratory rulings, but the game demonstrated that with the two regulars out, the Mountaineers still had by far the stronger team. Nardacci, Eckberg and Simon repeatedly crashed through the opposing line for long gains, and Graham and Tallman received several forward passes that aided considerably in running up touchdowns. The final score was 33 to 0.

VIRGINIA

After the Indiana game the squad returned to Morgantown to prepare for the most crucial two weeks of the season. By comparative scores it seemed that Virginia, Ohio University, and W. and J. were all going to present stiff opposition to the onward sweep of the Mountaineers. The Virginia game was looked forward to with especial concern, because two weeks after our 12-12 game with W. and L., the Virginia machine defeated the Generals by the decisive score of 22 to 6. It was felt that if West Virginia could gain a decisive victory over Virginia, the tie score with W. and L., the only blot on the clean record would be removed.

The game was preceded by a pajama parade and a general "pep-raising" meeting on Friday night. The cheering and spirit on the field were the best that had been seen so far during the season. The field was too wet for a successful aerial attack, and both teams settled down to a determined drive of straight football. The dogged resistance and well-timed offense of both teams were admirable. While the Mountaineers seemed to be a shade the stronger, at the close of the first half it looked as though the difference was not great enough to enable them to score.

The change did not come until the middle of the third period. By blocking a punt West Virginia got the ball on the 25-yard line. A few line plays and a pass took it over the goal line. The second touchdown came in the fourth quarter, as result of series of line plunges by Nardicci, Eckberg and Simon. The game ended with the score 14 to 0.

OHIO UNIVERSITY

The 28 to 0 victory over Ohio University was almost entirely work of the reserves. The Thanksgiving battle with W. and J. was too near to take chances of injuring the regulars, and only three of them started the game. The second string men played with the skill of the regulars. McMillan, Olier, Bowers and Barnum all did excellent work, while the most spectacular play of the game was Fuccy's intercepting a forward pass and running forty-seven yards for a touchdown. West Virginia crossed the opponent's goal in each quarter.

WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON

The general interest in the home-coming battle on Thanksgiving Day was attested by the sale of 15,000 seats several days before the game was to be played. Additional bleachers were erected and every inch of available ground was utilized to satisfy the urgent demand for tickets. Thousands of alumni and followers of both teams were present for the occasion. The business section of Morgantown, sorority, fraternity and dwelling houses and University buildings were gaily decorated in gold and blue and red and black. Every one looked forward with a nervous tensivity towards the football classic of the tri-state region. When the day arrived it was ideal.

Long before the kick-off the bleachers were packed and throngs of people were crowding toward the athletic field. A long roar of applause greeted the teams as they trotted on to the field, and the battle was on. It was all that had been expected. Both machines put their full power into the game. A fumble cost the Mountaineers an excellent chance to score in the first half, and the first two periods closed without either team crossing the other's goal. Then at the opening of the second half, West Virginia received the kick-off and in six plays marched practically the whole length of the field and planted the ball behind the opponent's goal.

In the fourth quarter another series of gains took the Mountaineers within scoring distance. Nardacchi carried the ball over on a double pass. Eckberg kicked goal for the fourteenth point, and so the game ended—a game that will be remembered as long as football remains the national inter-collegiate sport. For the first time since 1891 a West Virginia team completed a football season without a defeat.

GONZAGA

The western game was something of a disappointment to many Mountaineer fans. Although Dr. Spears' eleven brought back a 21-14 victory many followers of the team felt that it should have been larger. Perhaps it should have been. After scoring two touchdowns in the first half and another in the third quarter, our team might logically have been expected at least to hold the opponents during the remainder of the game. Instead of that, they permitted them to push over two touch-downs and to carry the ball dangerously near the goal for a third at the end of the game.

But before the team is criticised, it should be remembered tha the game was played after our men had broken training. The fatigue of a trans-continental trip weakened them. They were playing under different climatic conditions against a system of football that was comparatively new to them. Under these handicaps the men could not be expected to do their best work. But they won the game, and that was enough.

BASKET BALL

STADSFOLD, Coach

It has been a long time since West Virginia University teams have had such conspicuously successful campaigns as the varsity squads have enjoyed this year. Following the example of the unbeaten eleven of last fall, the Mountaineer basket ball team finished the season with a splendid record. The record eclipsed all former marks for contests won and furthered West Virginia's prestige in many section.

By winning twelve out of their nineteen games the varsity quint established a new season's record. The best that any West Virginia team had been able to do up until this winter was eleven out of eighteen games played. The first three teams met were easily overcome with large scores. Davis and Elkins visited us for the first game and they were defeated by the score of 34 to 11. To those who saw the game the boys looked like winners even at this stage of the season. It was remarkable how well they played together and how well Captain Bowers managed the team.

WHITE, Manager

The next game was with Waynesburg at home. The final results were close; the varsity winning by only two points, 24 to 22. Bowers, and Hill were the two main stars of this encounter and in the tight places in the game it could easily be seen that they were veterans on the floor.

Allegheny traveled the same road as the team that had gone before her and she was trounced to the tune of 30 to 24.

After winning the first three games the team slumped and dropped five in a row. The teams that defeated us at this time were Pittsburgh, Grove City and Carnegie Tech. The last of these games the Mountaineers lost by a single point and this was made the last minute of play when a foul was called on one of the West Virginia players.

The team started on its eastern-southern trip the next week. Washington and Lee, Virginia, Tokola Club, U. S. Navy and Bucknell were played. They won three out of the five games which is a far better record than the team made last year on the trip. Last year

BOWERS, Captain

P. HILL

With these games in mind the Presidents came to Morgantown to take home a victory. The game was one of the hardest fought contests ever played on the local floor. The final score was 23 to 22 in favor of the Presidents. The winning point came in the last minute of play when one of the West Virginia players fouled and the Presidents tossed the ball into the basket.

Pierre Hill, forward was the high score man of the squad with 219 points. He tallied 41 field goals and caged 137 out of 256 tries from the foul line. Fred Funk, Forward, was second scorer with 68 points. Injuries kept him out of the game for two weeks at mid-season or he might have equalled Hill's total in the matter of field goals.

they lost all of the games on account of the players being sick with the flu.

When the team returned they started on a winning streak which came very near giving them the tri-state title. They won seven games in a row defeating some of our old time rivals by decisive scores. Such teams as West Virginia Wesleyan, Carnegie Tech, Geneva, Washington and Jefferson, and Pittsburgh were defeated.

The final game of the season was perhaps the most exciting and interesting game of all. It was interesting because of the fact that it was with our ancient rival, Washington and Jefferson. The Mountaineers had gone into the camp of the Presidents some weeks previous to this game and won a hard fought victory from them. We defeated them by the score of 34 to 32. This was the second defeat the Presidents had received at the hands of West Virginia teams during the past year. You will remember that they were defeated by our foot ball team.

BASE BALL

ICE, Manager

At the beginning of the season the base ball team faced one of the hardest schedules ever undertaken by a West Virginia nine. Of the twenty-eight games on the schedule sixteen were to be played on the home lot. Prominent among the teams to be met are Yale, Navy, Georgetown, Pitt, Lehigh, and practically every other state rival of any importance in this section. The list of state rivals of importance is composed of Bethany, Salem, and West Virginia Wesleyan. Last year Wesleyan was the only state team to be met by the Varsity. In addition to the state rivals the Mountaineers meet practically every important team in the tri-state section in a series of games. Pitt will be met four times, Grove City Three, and Duquesne and Westminster twice each.

Thus it is to be seen by the formidable schedule presented that Rodgers' men have "no easy row to hoe." Eight of last year's first string men are back in uniform for another season and there is a host of very promising new men to help the Varsity along on its journey.

Coach Rodgers is fortunate in having Fulton Woods and Dick Evans back on the mound, and in having such promising younger pitchers as Tallman, Lyall, Carden, and Richmond to do his relief work. For every position on the team there are two or three very capable ball players who are competing closely for first honors.

At this writing the work of Hawley, Miller, DeVaughn, Rowan, Weik, Wright, Mowery, Bruder, Harrick, Lytle, Weidemeyer, Pfleger, and Copely have been outstanding and show signs of making a fast hard-working nine, well able to uphold the records of former Mountaineer teams.

RODGERS, Coach

WRESTLING

DAYTON, Coach

The West Virginia University wrestling team of 1923 kept up the fine record of athletics started by the football team last fall. It was the opinion of one coach at the United States Naval Academy that we had the better team and the Navy was fortunate to win over us. Also, we would have defeated the Iowa State team had it not been for the long trip and one unfortunate circumstance. The rest of the matches were won by our team in creditable manner.

The season's fine record can be attributed to the untiring effort of Coach R. B. Dayton and the co-operation of the team in his method of coaching. His morale and determined Mountaineer spirit sent the team in every match a fighting unit of strength.

Meeting such teams as the Navy, Iowa State, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Kentucky and Virginia, the Mountaineers wrestling team surpassed their 1921 and 1922 marks by winning six out of the eight meets on their schedule. The Middies, recognized all over the country as the strongest mat team in collegiate circles, earned a 16-8 triumph when Scotty Hough, the Mountaineer Ace, who had never been thrown before, was stunned in a fall to the mat and was pinned down before he could recover.

Iowa State, Western Conference champions, nosed out the Mountaineers, 14-13. Although defeated fairly in both meets, members of the squad and hundreds of Mountaineer fans are confident Captain Pitsenberger and his team mates could reverse the tables in return engagements.

The individual record follows:

Captain Ezra Pitsenberger, 175-pound class, won his bouts in the Ohio, Iowa, Virginia and Indiana meets on falls. He earned decisions in the Waynesburg, Kentucky, Navy, and Pennsylvania matches. It was a great year for Captain Pitsenberger, as he won every bout and finished the year as the only man undefeated.

TRACK

EARL THOMPSON Coach
PIERRE HILL Captain
JAMES P. BAKER Manager

West Virginia has every reason to expect an excellent showing in track and field athletics this spring. There is an exceptional amount of new material out for track and it looks as though there will be plenty of good men for every position.

At this writing there has been very few eliminations for the several positions and it is hard to tell just who will compose the teams. Coach Earl Thompson is grooming six members of his track squad for the Pennsylvania State relays to be held at Philadelphia on Friday, April 27. West Virginia will enter a relay team and several men in the special events. Since all of the eight men on the squad stand a good chance of earning a place on the Mountaineer relay team, and are recognized as the best men in other events, the whole squad will be entered in the specials.

The interclass meet to be held shortly will bring to light some new material that Coach Thompson probably knows nothing about. At the present time he is giving special attention to Strickler, a Sophomore who showed up so well in the quarter last spring; Henry Butts, probably the most promising man on the whole squad; Wilson, who although a student here for several years, never reported for track until this spring; the veteran George Hill; Ralph Knutti, his hurdle protege; Lou Titley, speedy stepper from Denver, Colorado; and Dan D'Aiuto, the Martinsburg High phenom. He will probably select his squad from these men but the inter-class meet will decide their fate as well as that of others who have been doing commendable work during the past three weeks.

Records made by men so far are:

100-yard dash—D'Aiuto, 10 1-5.
220-yard dash—D'Aiuto, 23 4-5.
440-yard dash—Butts, 53.
880-yard run—Zinn, 2:11 2-5.
Mile run—Callaway, 4:48.
Two-mile run—Faulkner, 11 2-5.
120-yard hurdles—Knutti, 17.
240-yard hurdles—Knutti, 27 4-5.
Hammer throw—Bruffy, 122 feet 4 1-2 inches.
Discus throw—Bruffy, 122 feet 2 1-2 inches.
Javelin—Barnum, 165 feet 10 inches.
Running broad jump—D'Aiuto, 21 feet 7 inches.
Running high jump—P. Hill, 5 feet 11 1-2 inches.
Pole vault—P. Hill, 11 feet 1-8 inch.

TENNIS

As this book goes to press there has been very little going on so far in the way of tennis playing. We do not have the benefit of a good indoor court and the prevailing bad weather has prevented Coach Mumma from doing much, but from present indications the West Virginia University racquetters are going to have a busy campaign this spring. The schedule calls for 25 matches with the best collegiate teams in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Ten of the twenty-five matches are to be played here. Carnegie Tech opens the season on Saturday April 31, and from that time on the Mountaineer courtmen are going to be kept on the move.

Extended trips through the western Pennsylvania section and southern West Virginia, the latter jaunt to be made after school closes in June, are the big features of schedule.

Coach Harlan L. Mumma, West Point, has been working with a squad of thirty men for over three weeks despite the handicap of bad weather.

Four letter men of last year are back and ready to do their bit. They are Captain Robert Riley, Coffman, Hutchins, Jones. These men long with the rest of the squad closed last year's season with a very impressive record which is still recalled as a notable accomplishment by every Mountaineer enthusiast. Local fans are expecting a duplication of the feat again this spring and are confident that West Virginia will be represented by a team which can uphold the honor of her previous teams on the courts.

The schedule follows:

April 21—Carnegie Tech at Morgantown.
 April 27—Salem College at Morgantown.
 April 30—W. and J. at Washington, Pa.

JOKES

We editors may dig and toil,
Till our finger tips are sore,
But some poor fish is sure to say,
"I've heard that one before."

Shakespeare's stenographer once said, "You can eat at Comuntzis' all the time and eat there some of the time, but you can't devour three meals per diem and live over it." She said a mouthful.

The room was very hot. Some one asked, "May I put up a window or something?"
Prof. Vickers:—"Put up a window."

"Before we were married George used to kiss me when we went through tunnels."
"And, now?"
"Now, he takes a drink."

A road sign reads: "Drive slow, you might meet a fool."

A better sign in some instances might be "Drive slow; two fools might meet."

Life's Paradox

The rich man gets a twin six and the poor man gets six twins.

"There's the guy I'm laying for," said the hen as the farmer crossed the yard.

Senior:—"My girl is so dumb she thinks an aspirin tablet is writing paper."

2:45-3:35—"The Children's Hour."

Here's to the faculty
Long may they live

But this I do insist;
I'll never be so lazy
That I'll throw my girl a kiss.

First Fr. Co-ed:—"Where were you last night?"

Second Fr. Co-ed:—"I don't know the name of the fraternities in school but it sounded like Epsom Salts House.

Don't buy thermometers in the summer—they are lower in winter.

"I'm all out of patients," said the doctor as the hearse left the hospital grounds.

"I flunked that exam cold."

"I thought it was easy."

"It was but I had vaseline on my hair and my mind slipped."

"Will you miss me?" sang the serenading lover.

"Not if this gun shoots where I aim," muttered the desperate neighbor.

But the key hole was in the wrong house.

FOGGED

"Darling!" cried the amateur photographer, "there are many positive needs in my life, and only you can fillum. Won't you let me print a kiss on your lips, and let me call you my little Brownie?"

But she answered in the negative.

Here lies my Caesar;

Pray let it lie,

For he's at rest

And so am I.

CHI OMEGA

Chi, in kitchen mechanic's language means always Omega, obnoxious; thus—always obnoxious.

Ex Horseshoe girls. That's good—the ex horseshoe feature. Ex defined as meaning out of. Horseshoe denotes good luck, so those guillotined at the weeping party are out of good luck, or better, "out of luck."

Founded—University of Arkansas. Reported strong in South. West Virginia is above the Mason-Dixon line. Rumored that they tried to affiliate with laundry union, but the wash-board girls wouldn't accept.

Attention to coat of arms—at bottom, "P. B. H."—"Please be here."

Noted for spacious front porch and access to alley.

Chapter activities: (1) Breaking Pan-Hellenic rules.
(2) Displaying crockery.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Founded at Monmouth college in 1870. Will be found at man-mouth now if Freshmen and High School boys are considered.

Founders evidently in Chapter now, judging from looks.

Badge, a key. Whis-key, mon-key or device which locked up their good traits.

An owl adorns coat of arms. Owls hoot and stay up all night, every night.

Colors, light blue and dark blue, but no true blue.

Flower fluer-de-lis, denoting copious innocence.

According to Themistocles, K. K. G means Krafty, Kuddling Gossips—Greek unnecessary to translate that.

Boast, "We never miss a bid."

A A. B. who was also C. D.

And of money hadn't N. E.

Said, "I write an S. A.

On the age of D. K.

And I 'll sell it for cash

ALPHA XI DELTA

Translated by fraternities—"All extremely delirious."

Founded at Galesburg, Ill. Galesburg so named by gales, storms and tornadoes there. It's an Ill. wind that blows nobody good. Hence this Ill wind thru Galesburg gave us (necessarily gratis) this monstrous boarding club.

Pin, a quill. Uncertain from what animal taken, but evidently a fowl.

Note coat of arms, esp. arms should you enter by mistake—a bad mistake. Broken sword on seal. One used by founder in making a vain stab for a man. You can't blame the sword. Present chapter extremely loyal to ritual in this respect.

PI BETA PHI

Some contend origin unknown, like cancer others claim Monmouth College, 1867, just after the Civil War. War necessary to drive any one to that stage of desperation.

Local club house located at bottom of hill. Object—to trap any man making false step off Sunnyside bridge before he can escape.

Note Seal—everything centers around "Lux," a soap. That much in their favor.

Judging from roll call, there is safety in numbers, but they would be safe alone. Nothing bothers them excepting their creditors.

Coat of arms discloses "Walla Walla Bird," ancestor of our modern fish.

Activities: (1) Chewing gum.

Famous members: (1) Lydia Pinkham.

First Student:—"What's the matter with Legs?"

Second Stude:—"Oh merely taking things too literally."

"How came?"

"Well, he went to see Doc. Simpson. The Doc. wrote a prescription, told him to follow it out—"

"Yes?"

"It blew out of a four-story building."

DELTA GAMMA.

Strong—in physique.

West Virginia is baby Chapter. Judging from Chapter picture, Mrs. Methuselah must be a member of some well-established lodge.

Name signifies "Gold Diggers."

Badge—anchor, referring to attachments to vile dissipations.

Well-established Chapter exists at Baton Rouge, especially rogue. Founded in Mississippi during barbecue. They have been massacring beef ever since.

History:?

Famous members:?

Fat Girl:—"I have an appetite like a canary."

Thin Girl:—"Yes, you have! you eat a peck at a time."

A woman was frantically running around in the five and ten-cent store. She seemed to be in a great hurry and was hunting for a clerk. "Can't somebody get me a mouse trap," she gasped. "I have to catch a train."

First Stude:—"They are going to fire all the street cleaners and close the broom factories."

Second Student:—"What for?"

First Student:—"Well, these long skirts are sweeping the country."

Did It Ever Happen to You?

Gertie (over phone):—"Leonard, now that we have broken our engagement, I sent you back the ring—did you get it?"

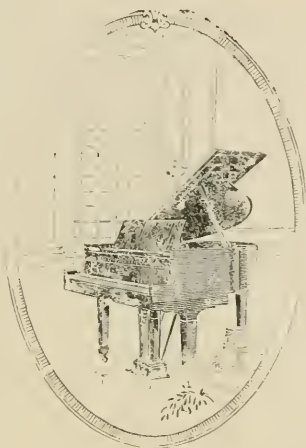

Leonard—"Yes, I got the ring, but what the h—l did you do with the stone?"

Teacher—"Who is your favorite author?"

Boy:—"My father."

Teacher:—"What does he write?"

Boy—"Checks."—Ex.
